PORTFOLIO

Visual storytelling

From work free periods in lockdown through to the busiest December on record 2020 was a rollercoaster of a year!

Working across genres

I've continued to work across different genres for my clients from the lifestyle, heritage and hospitality sectors. This is such a benefit for brands who require their imagery to cover a mix of subjects with a consistent look.

Mouthwatering food

It's been a really strong year for food commissions. I've continued to build on my styling experience to create some beautiful images for hospitality businesses and food producers. Editorial style images documenting chefs and producers at work have also featured.

Supporting a shift to online and new ways of working

With Covid restrictions in place there has been a need for businesses to communicate and engage more effectively than ever with their customers online. Visibility has been so key and I've loved helping brands share their story through images.

Portfolio highlights

It's always an epic task editing down a portfolio from thousands of images. I've selected these images to show how my style and approach translates across food, lifestyle, heritage and portrait photography. Enjoy!

WORKING SAFELY IN 2021

Commercial photography shoots are permitted within the current Government guidelines. I have produced a new Covid-19 policy to communicate how I am managing a safe working environment for myself and my clients.

Some shoots have had to be postponed until later in the year due to the nature of the subject and environments. However, there are many shoots that can continue safely and effectively.

I am based in York and working across Yorkshire and where appropriate the rest of the UK.

I am always available for an initial chat during the early stages of a brief to determine what would be feasible for you and your business.

TESTIMONIALS

Olivia understands our requirements as a brand

“Olivia’s documentary style has brought new life to our location and lifestyle photography. She understands our requirements as a brand and how to manage timings on a shoot.”

Visual Merchandising Manager at Bettys

She always produces work of the highest quality

“Olivia has a gift for making you feel completely at ease. She is so accommodating of any ideas or concepts that you may have. She has great experience in creating the right style for a brand, and always produces work of the highest quality.”

Grays Court Hotel

Olivia blew us away with her incredible eye for detail

“Olivia completely blew us away with her incredible eye for detail, and the ability to calmly move from situation to situation. She effortlessly captured hero shots - both interior and exterior, beautiful archive images of our collections, as well as documentary shots of visitors exploring the house. Olivia’s style is perfect to show the beauty of an expansive space, picking out hidden details, and capturing enticing shots to showcase the best you have to offer.”

Marketing Manager, York Mansion House

The documentary-maker’s gift for blending into the background

“Olivia has the documentary-maker’s gift for blending into the background. She catches very natural moments because the pupils feel so comfortable around her. Her work and her standards of professionalism are flawless.”
